Case No: ~~4:10CR0013-001~~

Motion to Amend

COMES NOW, the defendant, Kenda Palmer, Pro Se and requests upon this HONorable Court to amend the Defendant's Judgement and Commitment Order to indicate her participation in the Inmate Financial Responsibility Program is waived. Ms. Palmer has participated with payments in excess of $100 per month since July 2011. These payments are being paid by her mother because IFRP "refusal" at Alderson would cause Ms. Palmer to lose her living quarters. The defendant's mother takes care of her two children ages 5 and 2. THE inmate Financial Responsibility Program is not required while incarcerated. Participation is voluntary as clarified in the case U.S. vs Munoz-F.3d- (7th circuit, July 9, 2010) 2010 No. 09-1118, June 11, 2010 and U.S. vs Boyd 609F.3d331 (7th Circuit 2010 U.S. court of Appeals).

If the court still requires participation, the defendant requests a fixed amount be ordered for no more than 25.00 per quarter with the remainder of restitution to be paid 60 days after defendant's release from Bureau of Prisons at $200.00 per month as originally stated in her judgement and commitment Order. The defendant earns $11.41 per month with no opportunity for increase and prays the burden of her restitution not be placed upon her mother during her incarceration.

The defendant humbly prays for any and all relief possible.
Respectfully Submitted this 26 day of January, 2012
